PATTERNS IN CONCRETE march across a slope overlooking Beechwood and Dixonville where a contractor is erecting a 130-unit complex to provide housing for low-income families. The newly-poured concrete comprises the foundations and basement slabs for some of the units.

By ROBERT POPP

Four months ago, the hillside off Maine Blvd. overlooking Beechwood and Dixonville was little changed from the days when the Indians left - an almost impenetrable tangle of trees, brush and briars.

Today there's the roar of bulldozers and the clatter of tools as a crew of 30 men hurries ahead with erection of a provide housing for 130 low income East Liverpool families.

The units are being erected in concentric sweeps stepped up the slope and stretching around the hillside to the high bluff that overlooks East End and the Ohio River. Many of the huge trees are being left in place.

The families which occupy the homes will be styled "low income," but they'll have a millionaire's view of wooded and grassy slopes near Dixonville and a sweeping panorama of the valley eastward toward

The injured included one policeman and a fireman hurt by flying glass, another policeman

Slowdown In Vietnam War Grows

Top U.S. Military Officials Consider More Withdrawals

SAIGON (AP) - The lull in the Vietnam war spread today as top American military officials met to consider the significance of the slowdown and prospects for more withdrawals of U.S. troops.

Emphasizing the lull, the U.S. Command announced that the number of Americans and enemy killed in combat last week were the lowest since the first week of the year, while the number of South Vietnamese soldiers killed was the lowest in

U.S. headquarters said 148 Americans were killed in action, well below the weekly average for the year of 243, Enemy dead totaled at least 2,051, the command said, and 352 government troops were reported killed. Americans wounded last week totaled 1,612, slightly above the recent average. This was believed to be the result of a 30 per cent increase in the average daily number of contacts by small American units, but a predicted increase in battle deaths because of this did not materialize.

Miltiary spokesmen reported 15 enemy shelling attacks Wednesday night and today, with 10 of them causing damage or casualties. Two American installations were targets, including the U.S. 9th Infantry Division base at Dong Tam, but

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon, moving to stamp out speculation fed by his own treasury secretary, has all but ruled out wage-price controls as a weapon against inflation:

Surface Dips On Chester-Newell Rd.

By BARBARA DAVIS

That "sinking feeling" drivers experience on the Chester -Newell Rd. near the Chester city line is also felt at the State Road Commission offices from New Manchester to Charleston.

A depression in the highway surface, now heavily traveled due to the increase of traffic to the Newell Bridge, has been plaguing motorists since before the Chester Bridge was closed. And motorists and others have lasted only three days. The road surface keeps slipping, Evans reports, and requires continuous repair. Funds, meanwhile, are rapidly dwindling, he adds

Landing Expected Friday Morning

Soviet Unmanned Luna 15 Reported In Moon Orbit

JODRELL BANK, England (AP) — The Soviet Luna 15 probe rocketed into orbit around the moon today. Jodrell Bank astronomers said they expected an attempt to land the unmanned craft on the moon by Friday morning.

Observatory director Sir Bernard Lovell said Luna 15 was in an eliptical orbit almost exactly two hours long and 600 to 1,200 miles above the moon.

He added after checking his big radio telescope, the West's main listening post for Luna 15 since it was launched Sunday,

that it was sending back
"heaps" of data.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said in Moscow that Luna 15 had become an artificial satellite of the moon, a statement interpreted in the Russian capital as possibly meaning no landing attempt (Turn to LUNA, Page 10)

To Celebrate Moon Landing

Monday Holiday Bid Being Okayed

By The Associated Press Several governors and may-ors have already honored President Nixon's request that they declare a holiday Monday to celebrate man's first landing on the moon

"If the President suggests it, we ought to go along with him since this would be one of America's greatest moments," said South Carolina Gov. Robert E. McNair as he announced an official holiday for state employes.

Nixon signed a proclamation declaring Monday a national day of participation hours after he watched the television broadcast of the Apollo 11 liftoff Wednesday.

His action gave the day off to all federal employes except those in national security and public service areas.

The President urged governors, mayors, school officials and private employers to take similar action "so that as many of our citizens as possible will be able to share in the significant events of that day.

He also called upon "all of our people on that historic day to join in prayer for the successful conclusion of Apollo 11's mission and the safe return of its crew.

The governors of the nation's two most populous states-Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California-were among the first to heed the President's holiday re-

Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox also granted state employes the day off and added: "I would (Turn to HOLIDAY, Page 10)

City To Seek Increase For Refuse Levy

Council has agreed to consider legislation seeking an additional half - mill levy to help finance trash and garbage col-lections by the incinerator de-partment, Mayor George E, Willshaw said today.

The proposed action, if approved by voters at the Nov. 4 election, would boost to 3 mills the total taxation for support of the incinerator department, providing the department with approximately $20,000 in additional annual operating revenue.

Levies totaling 21/2 mills now are in affect to finance incinerator department operations. A half - mill of the present millage is slated to be placed on the November ballot for renewal.

Council expects to enact legislation asking a vote on the new half - mill proposition and renewal of the existing halfmill. The other 2 mills already in effect will not expire this "Council has determined that this action is necessary to meet rising costs and maintain the efficient operation of the trash and garbage service," the mavor said. "When a garbage truck breaks down, it has to be repaired or replaced in order to maintain the schedules.

He cited a recent instance in which a breakdown of a 1962 model collection truck cost $1,-139 for repairs. In addition, the mayor said, the city soon will be required to replace the bulldozer which is used to cover the daily accumulation of refuse on the landfill dump along the Y. & O. Rd. in Madison Township.

Who's Minding The Store?

Just how effectively or foolishly is taxpayer money being spent?

Everyone is as aware of the plight of many American Indians as they are of government claims that present expensive programs are working "effectively."

Two Indians had something to say about the operation of the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Nashville last week.

Robert K. Thomas, a Cherokee social scientist, and Bill Pensoneau, a member of the Ponca tribe, speaking at a race relations institute, urged that the bureau be abolished.

MR. PENSONEAU said every Indian on a reservation could be paid up to $200 a month from money presently budgeted to the bureau.

A former U.S. congressman and Atlanta attorney Charles Longstreet Weltner, took an interest in a senseless Negro jilling in his city and researched the background of the dead

He found that during the course of his disjointed life, the dead man had come into contact with seven governmental agencies charged with the responsibility of rebuilding crumbled lives. They included two probattion offices, the state penitentiary, a state hospital, two health offices and the state employment service.

Overworked probation officers, understaffed state hospitals and underbudgeted penitentiary programs may explain why the agencies are falling short of their goals, but they don't erase the failure

The Georgia case is not unique. Similar cases are repeated daily across the nation.

Care to guess the combined annual operating costs of state and federal programs supposedly rehabilitating lawbreakers, opening up employment opportunities and reducing mental illness? Then there is Social Security.

Take a look at your paycheck and see how much is being lifted to take care of retirees. Talk to some of the folks on Socitl Security and see how the program is working.

Operating costs of welfare programs are skyroceketing. Still legitimate welfare recipients say payments are inadequate for food, housing

WITHIN THE SPREADING government bureaucracy we have documented evidence of waste in military spending, foreign aid and domestic aid.

Salaries are raised for members of Congress and high officials but unnecessary junkets and expense-paid trips (to the moon launch for example) reduces public trust in our leadership.

We do not expect the U.S. government to function perfectly. Nor do we expect local, state or federal agenicies to put together the shattered pieces of every life that comes to their attention

But until a way is foud to control bureaucratic growth and its attendant complications and more attention focused on performance in accordance with need neither, state nor federal governmental agencies will be coming anywhere close to realizing their potential.

And neither will the taxpayer be getting full value for dollars invested in America and his

The Giant Clam Pirates

The cultivated taste of wealthy Japanese gourmets has led to a small international problem. More than that it was responsible for an episode which will outrage every conservationist who reads about it.

Because of the desire of the gourmets for the muscle of the large (3-to-4-foot wide) tridacna clam, an extremely expensive delicacy known only to the gourmets, 19 Okinawans have destroyed the largest known concentration of the rare clams in the Pacific.

THE OKINAWANS, operating from an unlicensed 75-foot fishing vessel, spent several days diving at one of the tiny, uninhabited U.S. trust territory atolls in the Cariline Islands. They cut out 5,000 pounds of muscles from at least 2,000 of the huge clams, thus killing all of the rare marine animals they could find, They also took aboard 214 large turtles captured in the waters of the atoll.

Questions, Answers By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON - Today we're going to have our quiz on inflation. You've had enough time to read up on it so you should well. All right, let's begin:

Question: Where does the word "inflation" come Answers: In 1887 there was a bar and grill owner in San Francisco named George Inflation. One day he failed to receive a shipment of booze from the East. Since the demand for booze was great, George Inflation decided to charge 15 cents for a shot of whisky, instead of the standard 10 cents. He also made the shot glass smaller.

This did not stop his customers from buying booze, so he raised the price to 20 cents, then 25 cents. The other bars in San Francisco raised their prices accordingly, and when their customers complained the other bar and grill owners would say "Blame it on In-

THUS, INFLATION soon became part of the English language.

Q: Why is everyone so fascinated by infla-

- A: Because there are so many things that you can do with it. You can hold it; you can turn it around: you can spiral it: you can send it sky-high; you can let it get out of hand; you can try to curb it; restrain it; stop it, and during feeding hours you can go to the bank and watch it eat us your savings. Q: What causes inflation?

A: ECONOMISTS. THEY'RE ALWAYS talking about it. The trouble with inflation is that the more you talk about it, the more inflated things become. When the government says it's worried about inflation, business gets worried, too, and so it raises its prices to protect itself against the inflation the government is worried about-which, of course, brings on more inflation.

Q: Then why doesn't the government shut up about inflation?

A: Because it wants Congress to extend the 10 per cent surtax and it has warned that, unless there is a surtax, inflation will run rampant. Q: What's the difference between inflation running rampant and inflation spiraling out

A: There isn't much, providing you can put a brake on the economy. Q: Is that the best way to stop inflation in

A: Not necessarily. You can cool off the economy when it overheats and you can dampen investment in economic expansion or you can try to reverse the wage price upward cycle. But they're only temporary solutions. The key word, of course, is "restraint" on the part of business and labor, which, of course, is out of the question. Q: Can you live with inflation?

You can if the bank doesn't take away its tracks?

Q: What about a little inflation?

A: SOME ECONOMISTS SAY that a little inflation is a good thing because you have full employment. Other experts say it's better to have unemployment than inflation.

Q: Why do the latter say that?

A: Because they're working. Whether or not you have inflation, you're still going to need economists to tell you what you've got.

A: Write to his congressman and tell him if he doesn't do something about it he's going to see that he's unemployed in 1971, which will be his contribution to fighting inflation.

What can the little guy do about infla-

VICTOR RIESEL

Pennies For Crime Fight

WASHINGTON — On the morning of June 27, a gentleman from Ohio rose in the House of Representatives to praise a Teamster of considerable muscle and girth - and this puts it gently. The Congressman, Rep.

Michael Feighan, spoke of the teamster as a most "respected" nobleman of contemporary civilization

This teamster, a national vice president of the Brotherhood, is Bill Presser, protege of prisoner Jimmy Hoffa, friend of ex-convict, extortionist Johnny Dio (now appealing a five-year prison term) Victor Riesel and ally of some mighty notorious forces. Now it could be that Congressman Feighan, though a member of the House Judiciary Committee, doesn't read or that he neglected researching the object of his affection, or both.

This may be the trouble in Congress. Not enough R and R - research and reading. Especially the perusal of vital reports on which the government spends hundreds of thousands of dollars to transcribe and submit. If there had been close examination - especially by members of committees such as the Judiciary or Standards of Official Conduct, they would have learned that the struggle against organized crime is just that - a bitter, frustrating and still futile effort to crack La Cosa Nostra and its fellow travelers

THERE HAS BEEN, for example, much sound and fury whipped up in the public prints. There has been much talk of the Justice Dept.'s anti-Mafia "strike forces." Yet confidential reports disclose that there are but three such coordinated attack groups now in "full operation." These are in Buffalo, Brooklyn (N.Y.) and Detroit.

For a long time now we have been told that there are 9 and that the network soon will climb to 20 and then the crowbar-wielding, multibillion dollar crime syndicates will be harassed out of business and all will be pure.

Where there are coordinated strike forces there are nervous Cosa Nostra capos muttering about Justice Dept, persecution. At least 193 Mafiosi have been indicted in Buffalo, Brooklyn and Detroit. Other coordinated task groups are operating in Philadelphia, Chicago, Miami, Newark and New York.

Next target is Los Angeles. The West Coast crowd which controls much of the wide-open southwest will be hammered.

That is, if the Justice Dept.'s Organized Crime and Racketeering section gets staff money. That's what it takes - money. The mob, according to Attorney General John Mitchell, does a $50 billion annual business and some agencies have to crawl, hat in mouth, to Congressmen for pennies.

JUST LOOK AT these figures. J. Edgar Hoo-ver's Bureau has full records on the Cosa Nostra's 26 families which have 3,000 blood broth-modest in their proposals. The Organized Crime Section, directed really by "Pete" Peterson, has but 75 attorneys for this war between the upper and lower worlds. Of this group of lawyers-investigators, the section can spare only 35 counselors for the strike forces, which are described by Attorney General John Mitchell as federal and state law enforcement around an organized crime 'family.' It will catch family members in every violation possible - from failure to comply with the Labor-Management Reporting Act to drug peddling to selling unregistered securities. By the constant application we hope to so weaken the structure of an organized crime family that it will be unable to function in any efficient manner . . .

THIS WOULD BE fine if Congress would give. But the best the Organized Crime Section thought it wise to ask for in the new appropriations was an additional 23 lawyers, 12 secretaries and 15 nonlegal aides. Even now, it is not

Red Fleet Off Our Coast

WASHINGTON - The cause of world peace is not helped by the presence of a Soviet naval fleet in the Gulf of Mexico just a few miles from the territory of the United States

The task force is capable of firing missiles. It consists of eight ships - a guided-missile cruiser, two guided-missile destroyers, a submarine tender, two diesel submarines and two oilers. Some reports say that the Moscow government has sent the ships to this area because a few American destroyers have been patrolling the Black Sea. Whatever the reasons for the Soviet maneuver, it certainly has created uneasiness here and accentuates the importance of the proposed talks with the Soviets on arms limitation. EVERY COUNTRY has a right to send its war vessels into any ocean as long as they remain beyond the 3-mile or 12-mile limit prescribed. Thus far, the Soviet fleet has stayed at least 75 miles west of Key West, Fla., and is planning to go to Havana, presumably to attend the celebration of Cuba's National Day July 26. So far as is known, the destroyers sent into the Black Sea by the United States carried no missiles. They have been cruising in collaboration with ships of Turkey, which also borders on hemisphere by any European country. The Monroe Doctrine, as it is called, was respected for many decades. But within recent years, the Soviet government has defied it by establishing a foothold in Cuba The Russians may argue that they have a right to keep any country from establishing bases in Europe and that, in effect, if the United States is to have a free hand in keeping other nations from setting up bases in this hemisphere, then America ought to be prohibited from doing the same thing in Europe.

But the truth is that the Soviet government maintains armies of occupation in the Communist-bloc countries of Eastern Europe in defiance of the settlements reached at the end of World War II. The United States would be glad indeed to abolish NATO and pull its troops and naval fleets back home if the Soviets withdrew their armies and released from bondage the peoples of East Germany, Poland, Hungary, Romania and Czechoslovakia In the crisis that arose in 1962, President

Kennedy insisted that Soviet missile sites in Cuba be dismantled. Reports have recurred since then that secret bases have nevertheless been maintained A close relationship between the Cuban government of Fidel Castro and the Moscow government has continued. Intrigue has been carried on by the Communists in several of the Central-American and South-American countries.

THE TIME HAS COME to make clear to the government in Moscow that it must detach itself not only from Cuba but from any other country in this hemisphere. For the principles behind the Monroe Doctrine are still valid as a means of protecting the peoples of the Western Hemisphere against military conquest by any European or Asian power.

There can be little trust in Soviet pledges about maintaining peace while funds and military equipment are being shipped to Cuba and a Soviet fleet cruises in waters off our shores with vessels capable of firing missiles which could easily destroy American lives and proper-

Still, there are people in Congress who keep saying that the Communist threat is just a "myth" and that the deployment of antiballistic missiles inside the United States as a deterrent to enemy attack is really unnecessary.

The Senate Space Committee, heavily weighted with Pentagon supporters, has approved a $3.715 billion space program—exactly the amount the Nixon administration proposed — for the current fiscal year. It cut $250 million from the authorization previously approved by the

This figure does not include, however, $2.21 billion allocated to the Defense Department, $102 million to the Atomic Energy Commission and smaller amount to other agencies, bringing the overall space program to $5.88 billion for the year.

This figure is likely to come under heavy attack from the senators who question the value of further major manned probes into space after scheduled additional moon explorations over the next two years.

However, the Mansfield-Kennedy position wasn't entirely accepted by other Democrats. Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, the House Democratic whip, said it "would be like telling the Wright brothers to stop after they flew a couple of hundred feet," to go slow now on the space program.

The Space Committee mentioned only a "low-cost mission to the planet Mercury in 1973" as a likely future project.

It joined the House in boosting the requested $36.5 million to $50 million funds for development of nuclear rockets "to provide advanced space propulsion capability for future national needs."

-Junior Editors Quiz on-PAINTINGS

QUESTION: What are the different kinds of painting?

ANSWER: Once, artists had the job of picturing life realistically. Then came the camera, making realistic pictures so easily and quickly that the artist felt himself outmoded. Some artists went on making realistic pictures and many still do. Others began to experiment with effects difficult for a camera to duplicate. The impressionists painted the fleeting, hazy effects of color and light. The surrealists tried to represent the queer world of dreams. Then came the abstractionists, who have dropped any resemblance to nature and seem content with splotches and shapes, or with something which shocks. We asked our artist to comment. "Abstraction is a fashion," he said, "which I think both the artists and the public are getting tired of — how can one see a lot in pictures which are made to look empty? I would like to see artists forget about shocking anybody, turn back to nature, learn to draw beautifully and paint beautiful color. Abstractionists have a right to paint the way they want to, but their fashion shouldn't dominate everything else. Each artist should feel free to find his or her own self-expression."

(Heather Russell of Salem, Mass., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a

It's For The Birds,

Foreman Declares

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - Edward Swart, a foreman on the construction site of the highest building in Africa now has two extra charges to watch over Swart discovered a pigeon nest in the completed 458-foot central tower of Johannesburg's new Standard Bank building right inside a slot in which workmen were about to fit an 84-ton floor section. He had himself lowered to move the nest to another slot further down, only to repeat the tricky rescue operation as work proceeded from the top of the tower downwards

Finally he made the two baby pigeons a home in the tower's storeroom, where he guards them and feeds them with seed "I keep 20 pigeons at home and I've got what you call a soft spot for them," Swart explain-
